

iRis Networks Acceptance Use Policy

Welcome to iRis Networks website. iRis Networks places the highest importance to respecting the privacy of all persons using this website and to the protection of any personal information which we may collect and which you may choose to share with us. Such personal information will be used in accordance with the disclosures in this policy and does not alter or affect any other agreement you may have with iRis Networks.

As we strive to meet the needs of our customers, our policy is to prohibit selling or disclosing any personal information gathered on this website to any unaffiliated organizations for any purpose unrelated to iRis Networks business, unless we specifically disclose it to you or subsequently obtains your approval. While we may use this information to contact you or to send information to you, we will take commercially reasonable steps to safeguard such information from unauthorized access by any other parties.

Certain federal, state and local laws or government regulations may require us to disclose non-published personal information about our customers. In these circumstances, we will use reasonable efforts to disclose only the information required by law, subpoena or court order to be disclosed.

Your access to and use of our site are subject to this policy and any other terms of use or policies posted by us. Please note that this privacy statement applies only to this site and not to the websites of other companies or organizations (third party websites) to which we link. All amendments to this policy shall automatically be effective when they are initially posted on our site.

iRis Networks maintains physical, electronic and procedural safeguards designed to protect the confidentiality of personal information provided by you at our website. However, such precautions do not guarantee that our website is invulnerable to all security breaches. iRis Networks makes no warranty, guarantee, or representation that use of our website is protected from all viruses, security threats or other vulnerabilities and that your information will always be secure.

When doing business with others, such as owners (third party websites) to whom you can link from our site, you should consider the separate security and privacy policies of those other sites. While we link only to sites that share similar high standards and respect for privacy, we are not responsible for the content, products or services offered or the privacy and security practices employed by these linked sites. When you visit a third party site, you will no longer be protected by iRis Networks privacy policy.

If you have any questions or concerns about this privacy policy, you may contact us by phone or by sending an email to privacy@iRistransport.com.